The Tonrose Difference

Complete linen solutions for better business

Here at Tonrose, we understand better than anyone that linen for laundries needs to be high quality, durable, available immediately, competitively priced, and perfect for your customers' specific requirements.

We're dedicated to helping you improve your laundry business. And we'll work with you to develop and supply the best, most innovative and relevant products for your clients' needs, bringing you complete peace of mind with your supply chain.

With 120 years of family experience behind us, we'll take care of every aspect of ethical sourcing, new product development, sampling, testing, production schedules, quality control, international shipping, currency exchange rates, landed costs, stock holding and delivery.

Quite simply, we'll help you run your laundry business as effectively and efficiently as possible by delivering the perfect products for your clients.

With very best wishes,
Paul Haden and the Tonrose Team

Our turnkey linen service

Ethical & premium quality

World class ethical supply chain

Tonrose only works with the world's best and most ethical suppliers, and we're proud to carry the Better Cotton Initiative (BCI) mark on our products. This demonstrates our commitment to increasing the flow of better cotton throughout the global supply chain – the first UK trade linen to do so.

We also sponsor education and training programmes in India and Pakistan, and only work with carefully-selected partner manufacturers who fully support our ethical standpoint.

Market place insights

Providing the perfect product

We consult carefully with every customer on quality, durability and price to make sure they always have the best linen for their business needs.

Today's consumers are highly detail-orientated, and many hotels are actively promoting the quality of their linen as selling points. So we help our customers to create ranges of products to suit all their clients' needs, and provide the right quality products for every budget.

Non-stop innovation and NPD

NPD to help innovate your business

We believe in making everything better – including developing bespoke products to save energy, water and labour for our customers.

Our Gold TSA membership symbolises our commitment to being at the forefront of our industry, actively working to ensure its continued success and evolution.

Our turnkey linen service

Next day availability

Stock available whenever and wherever you need

We hold extensive stocks of 2.5 million linen products in our two dedicated warehouses, based in Lancashire and Dundalk, Ireland.

Our experienced staff and state-of-the-art systems ensure that we can reliably deliver 98% of these to our customers on a next-day service.

Personalised consultancy

One step ahead

We work closely with our customers to keep them up to date with industry and market place insights so they always can be one step ahead.

Today's hospitality industry is more ethically-aware and innovation-focused than ever, and Tonrose is dedicated to helping our customers lead the way in these important aspects of their business,

Innovating with you in mind

At Tonrose, we fully understand the pressures and challenges that laundries face, and our continued success is built on the fact that we don't just supply laundries with a product.

Instead, we work with our customers as a trusted partner, collaborating closely with them to create and innovate ideas that help them to run more efficient, effective and environmentally friendly businesses.

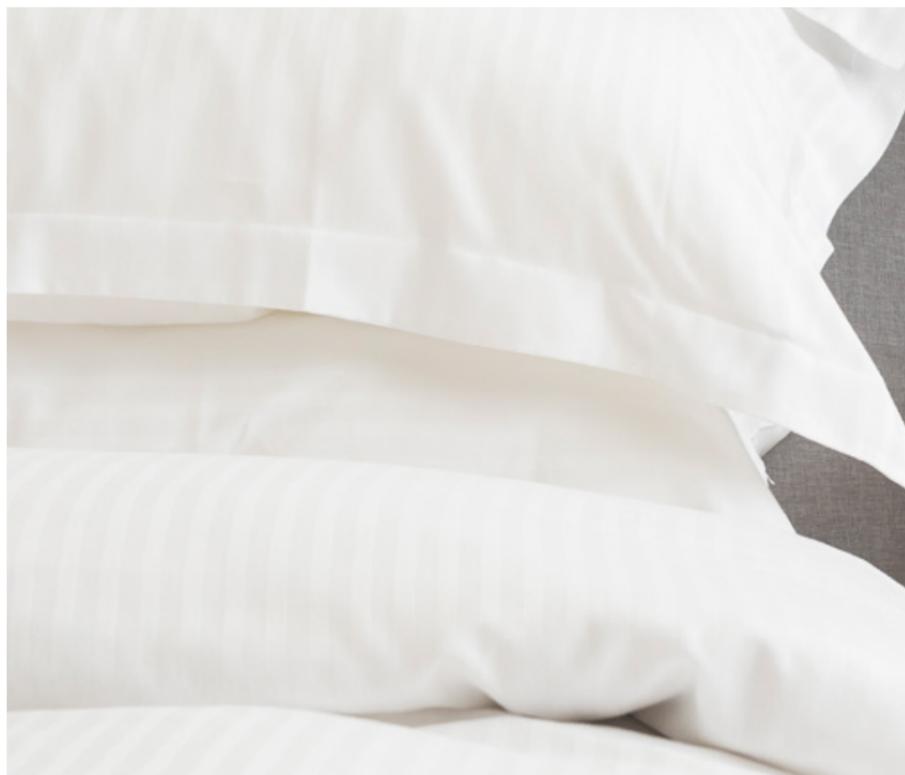

We take an active and forward-thinking approach to saving energy, water and labour, and we've launched Tonrose Labs to bring our ideas to fruition – together with an industry-leading pipeline of new products and global supplier partnerships.
